GERMANY SEVERS RELATIONS WITH LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Calls On People of Reich To Affirm Demands, Armament Equality

BROADCAST TONIGHT

Reichstag is Dissolved; New Elections On November 12th

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 14.—Standing alone against the world, Germany today severed relations with the League of Nations and called upon the people of the Reich to affirm by national referendum, their demands for armament equality with the rest of Europe.

The announcement of the bolt came from the League which, to all intents and purposes, automatically excludes Germany from further disarmament negotiations at Geneva, and was made by Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Minister of Propaganda in the government of Chancellor Adolf Hitler. The Chancellor, he announced, will go on the air in a nation-wide broadcast tonight to tell the people of the Reich why this drastic step has been taken and call upon them to support the government in the national emergency.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the bolt, Germany made known that the Reichstag had been dissolved and new elections will be held on November 12th—the day after the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice; a "day of mourning" for Germany for the past 13 years.

The determined stand of the former allied powers at Geneva against the rearming of Germany was responsible for the cabinet's decision to cast loose from Geneva.

Under the terms of the League covenant, formal resignation from the League Assembly cannot take effect for two years. The German bolt is the second major dissection from the International Organization formed through the efforts of the late Woodrow Wilson to insure "lasting peace" to the world by international mediation.

Japan resigned from the League assembly because of the World Powers' opposition to her activities in Manchuria and their refusal to take her side in the conflict with China.

Germany's announcement, a veritable bolt from the blue, was made to representatives of the German and foreign press only a short while after telegram reached here telling of the latest stand of the former Allied powers at Geneva.

Summed up by Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon of Great Britain the Allied thesis flatly rejected Germany's demand for immediate re-armament and provided for an eight year period of gradual transformation of the present world arms into a "defense force." Sir John expressed Britain's willingness to grant German equality at the end of this eight year period.

GENEVA, Oct. 14.—Never suspecting their action would precipitate Germany's withdrawal from Geneva, representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy and the United States today agreed upon a new disarmament thesis rejecting the Reich's demands for immediate arms equality.

GENEVA, Oct. 14.—American adherence to the British eight-year disarmament plan which dispatches say was responsible for Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations, was announced here today by Norman H.
Davis, American disarmament expert.

ASKS SHOWDOWN

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—(INS)— Openly resentful over the prolonged dispute with captive mine operators, Philip Murray, international vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America, today demanded the operators lay all their cards on the table and face a showdown.

One Dead, Three Missing, In Explosion of Launch

BAYONNE, N. J., Oct. 14.—(INS)— One dead, one injured, three missing and property damage estimated at $250,000 was the toll today from explosion and fire which destroyed a Standard Oil Company of New Jersey gasoline launch and damaged four other craft and piers.

Arne Kolvjornsen, 19, of Staten Island, a member of the launch's crew, died early today in Bayonne Hospital where he was taken after being picked up from the Bay. The fire broke out after an unexplained explosion as the launch was being loaded from a shore tank.

Magnus Kellepe, 23, also a member of the crew, was taken to the hospital suffering from burns and three other men, two of them seamen on the launch, the other a shore employee of the oil company, were missing.

Flames following the explosion attacked four small oil-carrying vessels of the oil company and spread to two nearby piers. Firemen subdued the blaze after a stiff fight.

dissatisfied with the recent milk code and the Interstate Milk Producers' As-

DOUBLE DWELLING DYNAMITED

Seranton, Oct. 14.—Scores of persons were aroused from sleep early today when a double dwelling in West Seranton was damaged by a dynamite explosion. Insurgent miners, sponsoring a strike in the anthracite region were blamed for the blast at the home of Joseph and Jerry Connor, miners who refused to join the walkout called by the anthracite miners of Pennsylvthe 21st since the outlaw strike was declared several weeks ago.

BUCKS COUNTY TO HAVE A PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

John Dolph, Holicong, Nationally-Known Advertising Expert, to Aid

OFFICE IN DOYLESTOWN

In an effort to advance the interests of Bucks County, John Dolph, Holicong, a nationally-known advertising expert, has volunteered his services in a concentrated publicity campaign for the county.

Mr. Dolph, who developed much of the Great Northwest through his attractive slogans, has offered his services to the Bucks County Real Estate Board. It is announced that although the realtors are sponsoring the movement, the campaign will have nothing to do with promoting the personal business of the group.

An office will be opened in Doylestown with a man or woman in charge, and will be known as the "publicity office of Bucks county." Mr. Dolph will direct the activities of the office, the advertising and publicity campaigns that are planned. One of his numerous suggestions that will be carried out as soon as possible will be to properly label every bit of produce or manufactured goods that is shipped out of Bucks county: "Made in Bucks County."

Mr. Dolph has suggested that it should be no difficulty to get 4,000 or more people in Bucks county to unite in one single campaign of publicity by donating $2 a year toward a fund that will be used directly to bring more business to the county, including the farmers as well as the town people and manufacturers.

A meeting of the committee in charge of the publicity campaign will be held in a few days.

ployment Bureau of Bucks County.

MUCH TESTIMONY GIVEN, BROOKS-BRISTOW SUIT

Grew Out of Dispute As To Whether Defendant Paid
For Roller and Tractor

EXTENSIVE DEALINGS

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 14.—In the suit of the R. E. Brooks Company vs. C. M.
Bristow, further testimony was given in the Bucks County court here.

The suit is an action in replevin, which grew out of a dispute as to whether the defendant company had paid for a roller and a tractor.

It was revealed in testimony that there had been extensive dealings between the two parties. The dispute was as to whether the defendant had actually paid for the roller and the tractor. The defendant claimed that he had, contending that certain payments made to the plaintiff company had been specifically directed to be applied to the roller and tractor account and that they were sufficient to pay for them.

William W. Bucher, president and treasurer for the plaintiff's company, testified that in August, 1932, a fair market value for the ten-ton roller was $1100. The tractor he estimated to be worth about $1250. Both machines were seized from the defendant in a replevin action about October 5.
Bucher testified both the tractor and roller were rebuilt after they were taken from the defendant.

Kenneth M. Byram, sales manager and vice-president of the R. E. Brooks Company, estimated the market value of the roller $1,000 and the tractor $1200.

Taking the stand for the defendant, Harvey R. Walton, Andalusia, sales engineer and distributor of contractor's equipment, testified he saw the tractor and roller, which belonged to the plaintiff, the day it was being returned. He placed the value of the tractor at $2500 and the value of the roller $3500. He described their condition as very good.

C. M. Bristow, Staten Island contractor, and a member of C. M. Bristow, Incorporated, was doing the construction work on Route No. 281 in the lower end of the county when the machinery was seized by the plaintiff.
"On several occasions Mr. Bucher came to my house in Staten Island and offered me $2500 for the machinery. I told him it was being moved to Bucks county and that I needed it to obtain the contract. The machinery was in good condition—in use for only three months," said the defendant.

Testimony of the most detailed kind and involving thousands of dollars of credit and debt, were produced as evidence by either side. Bristow stated that transactions with the plaintiff amounted to $30,000 over a period of years.

"I do know that at one time the plaintiff credited me with $1703.50 and at another time I gave them a check for the sum of $2500 towards an account. I paid them for the roller," Bristow said.

Tonight

BLDG. CHURCH COLONY

PENNS PARK, Oct. 14.—With the completion of the first stage of "Bethlehem-on-the-Neshaminy," a church colony and recreation settlement at Neshaminy Cliffs, two miles southeast of her, a supper and dedication service will occur this evening. Several hundred are expected to attend.

Ten Philadelphia men, formerly unemployed, and a number of local skilled laborers have been working on the property, a 100-acre farm, which was purchased by a group of Philadelphia business men, members of the Bethlehem Presbyterian Church, Broad and Diamond streets, Philadelphia, from Walter German, early in the spring.

Following the directions of Norman Hulme, a Philadelphia architect, Dr.
George A. Magee, a resident of the Cliffs, and one of the purchasers, has supervised the complete renovation of the barn, other buildings and a section of the grounds. A half-section of the barn has been converted into cheerful living quarters with capacity for a large number of persons. It is equipped with modern wiring and plumbing facilities.

Among other features are a sun parlor, for which about 40 glass-doors were needed, a sun porch, replacing the overshadowed roof and which is supported by large remodeled stone pillars, shower baths and lavatories, a completely equipped modern kitchen and an open air dining court with tables, chairs and a barbecue oven. Considerable cement and masonry work, requiring several tons of stone, sand, cement, has been accomplished by the force of men engaged in that line of work.

Operation on the boys' and girls' dormitories, a Boy Scout camp, three cottages for adult accommodations, and a baseball diamond, tennis court and nine-hole golf course, which the specifications call for, will not be started until next spring, according to Dr. Magee.

CHIEF McGEE AGAIN URGES PREVENTION OF FIRES

Calls Additional Attention To Fire Prevention Week,
Now Drawing to Close

INSPECTION BEING MADE

Additional attention is called to the prevention of fires by Fire Chief, James L. McGee, as Fire Prevention Week draws to a close.

Chief McGee is making a determined fight to keep down the fire loss in Bristol. The periodic inspection of property is now being made and an accurate report filed as to the condition of each place visited by the firemen, making the inspection.

"The 123,000,000 citizens of the United States, on a stated day, gather together in one place. A line of trucks bearing $400,000,000 in United States currency carry their load to the edge of a great pit and dump it in. It is saturated with gasoline, and a match applied. As this fortune goes up in smoke, 7,000 people are shoved into the burning pit."

Thus did an editorial writer recently dramatize America's fire loss for a single year. Fire Prevention Week, which is to be held this year from October 8 to 14, will attempt to bring before the American public the need for preventive methods to eliminate this terrible waste and tragedy.

"After this holocaust is over," the editorial goes on to say, "it is found that thousands of factories, homes, farms, hospitals and public buildings no longer exist and thus an army of men are thrown out of work. Cities and states are forced to raise their tax-rates to compensate for the property which no longer pays its share of the expenses of government."

"If such a thing as the above happened, every newspaper in the civilized world would carry scare-heads.
It would become the main topic of conversation in a hundred nations. It would be denounced as the greatest crime in history."

"Yet, in effect, this actually occurs annually in the United States. Very few people give it any particular thought because it doesn't happen at a given moment on a given day—it happens throughout the year. It represents our national fire bill."

"Waste of life and economic resources are no worse when they occur over a period of time than when they occur within an hour. The effect is identical. The loss is as complete—the disaster as astounding. Perhaps the illustration given above may help to focus the public mind on the magnitude, the tragedy, and the irrevocability of fire."

Of the 7,000 persons burned to death in this country last year, according to T. Alfred Fleming, chairman, National Fire Protection Association Committee on Fire Prevention and Clean-Up Campaign, one third were children under ten years of age, while almost two-thirds of the number were burned to death in residences. There has, in recent years, been an abnormal increase in dwelling house fires.

A comparison of fire loss figures for the present century follows:

1902	$161,078,040
1907	215,074,709
1912	206,438,900
1917	289,535,050
1922	506,541,000
1927	472,933,969
1932 (estimated)	400,000,000

And who pays this tremendous fire bill?

You, the reader of this, will help to pay for it, today and every day.
The cost of fire goes into every

REMOVE THE UNCERTAINTY

That recognition soon will have to be taken by the national administration of the relation between sound money and business advance is a conclusion easily drawn from present conditions.

Uncertainty and lack of confidence remain the most disturbing factors in the recovery situation. The upturn has not kept pace with expectations based on earlier indication. That much of this is due to pressure for inflation and to the absence of concrete evidence that the president is not in sympathy with the movement is obvious.

Business leaders have indicated as much. Now the federation of labor adds its voice to those demanding that Mr. Roosevelt come out emphatically for sound money. The federation's stand is taken following a survey made which showed that "the business mood at present is one of uncertainty." Much of this could be removed, it believes, by the president. A "declaration by the administration," it says, "could reassure business that in the next three months the currency would not be inflated and that eventually a return to the gold standard was contemplated."

It stands to reason that such a declaration would hearten both employers and employees and give new impetus to the recovery program. Although the president generally is believed to be opposed to the inflationists' program, his monetary policy—if he has a definite one—is unknown.

Removal of all uncertainty surrounding this question is needed. Until the white house acts to do this, the recovery program will continue to meet obstacles.

STREET CRAWLERS

Motorists and pedestrians are endangered by the operation of thousands of defective automobiles and motor trucks. Every unfit machine that is driven through the streets or upon the highways is a potential source of accidents. The large number of accidents caused by worn-out brakes, defective steering gear and maladjusted headlights is sufficient reason to demand that these "cripples" be barred from traffic lanes.

There is another decisive argument against opening public thoroughfares to unroadworthy vehicles. On the theory that a system is no stronger than its weakest link, traffic regulations must be made to fit the least efficient machine.

Operation of obsolete machines necessitates enforcement of regulations which were adopted prior to the advent of the highly efficient modern car. The car with four-wheel brakes can stop in half the space required by one with two-wheel brakes, but the former must comply with speed limits determined by the latter. Traffic stagnation is the result.

Most of the large cities have come to recognize the necessity of facilitating rather than restricting traffic, and mechanical efficiency of vehicles is the first prerequisite of this change in policy. Cars that are off like a flash on the green light and brought to a full stop just as quickly neither block traffic nor cause accidents.

The dollar continues its up and down course but it doesn't stay down long enough for us to grab many.

HOLLYWOOD.

Alice Brady is wondering whether she is the victim of a practical joke or whether she is the first star to be approached with a remarkable proposition of kidnapping insurance.

The actress has turned over to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio police a letter and a picture she received in the mail at her Beverly Hills home.

The letter, signed and giving the address and telephone number of the sender, was a request that anyone who can put their hands on $10,000 is a possible subject for abduction.

It offers, for the sum of $8,350 a month, to guarantee to pay any ransom up to $10,000. Similar protection up to $100,000 is offered for increased fees.

Accompanying the letter is a picture of Jake "The Barber" Factor, showing his disheveled state after being released by kidnapers.

Alice, who yesterday was finishing up a new picture, "The Vinegar Tree," for M-G-M is inclined to laugh the matter off but, just to be on the safe side, notified the studio police.

Matter now is in the hands of the district attorney's office for investigation.

Taking up golf after all these years, Bill Le Baron met a group of Hollywood friends as he was coming out of the clubhouse.

"Well," one of them asked slyly, "how do you like the game?"

Bill shook his head, replied: "I don't know yet. I'm not used to drinking at these hours."

The return of Sylvia Sidney to Paramount ends their breach and brings out the odd coincidence that her first picture will be called "Reunion." Lowdown, as we hear it in Hollywood, is that Paramount agreed not to ask any monetary damages for the star's walking out on "The Way to Love," if she would Notably solving the mystery of Lupe Velez' wedding ring, which has had the gossip insisting that she must have been married in Las Vegas. The popery Mexican star reminds me that she bought the ring herself a long time ago and has worn it as a good luck symbol. All Lupe will tell me about the date of the marriage is "some time this month."

A motion picture electrician reveals an interesting slant on Will Rogers' character. The other day, the studio wanted to call Will for an unexpected shot. He wasn't at his dressing room, nor at home. An electrician, who lives down Santa Monica way, suggested: "Try 'Doc' Law's drugstore."

It was there they found him. Bill, it seems, spends most of his spare time chatting with the owner of the little pharmacy, in Santa Monica canyon or at Ballantine's chili and hot-dog stand nearby. He and "Doc" Law, a former Hollywood extra, sit and talk for hours about western stars of days gone by.

All they need is a cracker box and a knife.

The Community Paper and Your Indebtedness To It!

The value of a newspaper to the community in which it circulates is inestimable.

This statement may on the surface appear to be one of bragadocio, but if carefully analyzed by the thoughtful individual, it will prove true.

A community newspaper is continually giving valuable service and support to every activity in the area in which it circulates. It gives publicity to the activities of organizations of a religious, civic, fraternal, social and patriotic nature. This publicity is not charged for, but is given gratuitously and oftentimes but little appreciated. Those benefiting therefrom, in a thoughtful manner, take it for granted that the publicity given is news, when many, many times it is nothing more than free advertising for the various organizations.

Column after column of free publicity for churches, schools, lodges, women's organizations, civic movements, and legitimately established merchants, informing the public that they have taken on a new line of merchandise or in some manner are endeavoring to better cater to the wants of their patrons, are given in every newspaper published today. The publishers of a newspaper do not expect to be paid for such items, and no charge is ever made therefor. Those receiving the benefits of this publicity, however, can and oftentimes do reciprocate in various ways.

The average community newspaper today has three sources of revenue upon which it depends for sustenance: its paid subscription list; the income received from advertising; and the revenue which is derived from its commercial printing department which is a valuable adjunct to practically every community newspaper.

The merchants use the paid advertising columns of the publication, and thereby recompense the publisher. Churches, schools, lodges, women's organizations, and those sponsoring civic movements, can pay their indebtedness to the publication for the free space given by placing orders for whatever commercial printing they may need, thereby showing their gratitude for the aid rendered by the publication.

Those who are interested in the community in which they reside or in which they have formerly resided contribute their share to the community paper by subscribing therefor.

Unless adequate support is received by community publications as herein set forth, the publication cannot prosper and render adequate service to any community.

Are you as an individual or organization doing your part in supporting your community newspaper? Are you using its paid advertising columns; subscribing for the publication; or patronizing its third source of revenue—commercial printing department?

As an individual you can do your part by making it your personal business to see that the publication which supports your organization is subscribed for; or when paid advertising is to be placed, that it is placed in the publication which has been generous in granting the free use of its columns; or by having your commercial printing done by the organization sponsoring the publication.

J-V'S OF BRISTOL HIGH CHALK UP GRIDIRON WIN

By Jack Orr

(Asst. Publicity Agent, B. H. S.) Yesterday on the Lower Merion field before a crowd of 1,000 cheering students, the Bristol Jay-Vees easily defeated the Lower Merion J. V. team, 14-0. The Bristol boys scored in the first and last periods as Conti and Ross took the ball over, respectively. Each time on the extra point it was taken on a line smash. Sagolla and Conti turned the trick for the visiting club.

The game was played on a wet and muddy field and subsequently no passes were attempted throughout the fray. Mostly line bucks were run and with Clifton and Conti carrying the brunt of the attack the Bristol boys steadily advanced.

Another feature of the game was the running of "Johnnie" Finan, former Bristol boy, for Lower Merion. The fifty piece band which played throughout the game and at the half was given a great round of applause and surely deserved it. The reception which was handed to the visitors was good, and also the officiating was handled in great style.

Today the varsity will play the strong aggregation from Halthoro who have not been scored on this year in their first three games. The Bristol Cadets will parade before the game and at the half. Kickoff at 2:30.

PIGSKIN PUNTS

By Juno

Football has finally stepped into full bloom within the past week. All of the local teams, with the exception of Bristol A. A., have played their warm-up games and are now ready for real action.

There are several prominent Bristol business men that are seen at almost every game where there is plenty of action. They are: "Abie" Popkin, "Izzy" Sirott, "Izzy" Rubin, and Harry Goldbers.

The Bristol Y. M. A. team made an impressive start against the Bustleton team and the eleven looked great even in defeat. The Y's tackle the Tacony Aces (not the professional club) on Sunday at Tacony.

The High School held Doylestown to a 6-0 score but failed to give the local rooters a victory. Maybe St. Ann's will turn the trick on November 12.

St. Ann's field has been put into a condition that will match with the best gridirons in the county. John Field and his assistants deserve plenty of credit for their work in the art of field developing. The only thing the field needs now is a fence around it to take care of the Bristol chislers.

The fact that the Furmans put up a good game with the Beverly team can be noticed that the Beverly club defeated the Roebbing Bulldogs of the Burlington County League last week. Furmans will play the Ironclads of West Philadelphia this week-end.

Happened to drop in at Mayfair last Saturday and saw the Bristol boys playing with the Overbrook club against the Mayfair team. The local boys showed up good. Mayfair contained most of the players of the undefeated Temple team of 1930.

I was a witness to the Trojans-Hightstown game under the lights at Windsor last Friday night and saw Bristol beaten 18-0. The score could have been much higher if Hightstown cared.

The defeat did not upset the moral of the Trojans, however, for they came right back to defeat the Neely's All-Stars, 6-0. The one-legged center of the Neely team would attempt to stop the rushes of the Trojan backs.

by leaping at them. He missed plenty of tackles.

St. Ann's will meet either the Frankford Red Jackets or the Trenton Wilbur team on Sunday. The Saints are undefeated and unscored upon at the present writing.

Glance at the colors of the Bristol teams' jerseys: High School, cardinal and gray; St. Ann's, purple and gold; Trojans, blue and gold; Y. M. A., black and white; Furman's, white and blue; and Bristol A. A., white and gold.

The Bristol High School Alumni team is practicing every Sunday on Leedom's field. A large squad has reported to Manager Dude Bilger and the boys are expected to hand the High School team a lacing on October 28th.

Needlework Directors Plan Annual Exhibit

A meeting of the directors of the Bristol Needlework Guild was held at the home of the President, Mrs. Henry E. Ancker, on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, there being eighteen directors present.

Mrs. Ancker announced the annual exhibition of garments will be held at the Community House on Tuesday, November 14th at 2 p. m. and the meeting will be addressed by Mrs. Clement H. Webster, of Frankford, First national vice-president of the Needlework Guild of America.

The Bristol Needlework Guild will hold a card party on Thursday evening, October 26th at 8 o'clock in the Travel Club Home, for the purpose of raising money to purchase undergarments for the needy this winter.

No organization in Bristol is doing a greater work than the Needlework Guild and it is hoped that every director will sell many tickets and make this party a huge success.

Two Men Hurt in Crash At Oxford Valley Last Night

LANGHORNE, Oct. 14—When a passenger car and a truck collided on the Lincoln Highway at Oxford Valley last evening, a Philadelphia man and a resident of Brooklyn were injured.

Those treated at a hospital are: Louis Dunn, 45, of 1237 S. Broad street, Philadelphia, fracture of the nose, and brush burns; Benjamin Resnikog, 29, Brooklyn, lacerations of the face. Dunn was treated by a Morrisville physician and then taken to the St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, N. J. Resnikog was discharged after receiving treatment at the same institution.

Resnikog was driving toward Trenton while Frank Radanowitch, Philadelphia, was operating a truck in the opposite direction. The cars side-swiped while rounding a curve, and the truck driver escaped injury.

As Charles W. Shute, of Magnolia, N. J., was driving a truck loaded with baled paper through Oxford Valley his machine was forced off the road by another car. Shute escaped injury but the paper was scattered about the road.

KELLY'S WIFE ILL

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 14—Kathryn Kelly, red-haired wife of George ("Machine-Gun") Kelly, was feeling pretty "low" in her cell in the county jail today. She is ill and her nerves are in bad shape. Her "man" has gone. It was "good-bye forever" as far as he was concerned when he left for the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, to serve the rest of his natural life for the $200,000 kidnapping of Charles Urschell. "Be a good boy, George," were her parting words to the man she blames for her present plight. Soon she will go to a Federal penitentiary herself; which one, she does not know.

TOOK TREMENDOUS PROFIT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14—Three giant Wall Street banking firms took a profit of $56,954,980 from the American investing public as their charge for floating various securities in the five year period of 1927 to 1931, a survey of the Senate Stock Market Inquiry revelations disclosed today. This tremendous profit, acquired through the managing of or participating in the underwriting of new stock and bond issues, was shared by J. P. Morgan & Company, Kuhn, Loeb & Company and Dillon, Reed & Company. Peculiarly enough, Dillon, Reed & Company took down the largest profit, although the inquiry here has revealed this to be the smallest of the three great private banking firms.

budget. Insurance premiums are based on fire losses—therefore, every fire tends to increase or to hold up rates. A community tax rate depends upon the number of properties and enterprises it has to tax—therefore, when a home or a business is destroyed, the taxes it would pay must be added to others. A percentage of fires throw men out of work and cause local industries to stop producing—and then we pay for fire in poorer business opportunities and commercial stagnation. There are other ways in which you pay for fires, but these will serve. You might think them over next time you put off having electrical equipment inspected, or your furnace fixed or delay until tomorrow cleaning that rubbish from the garage or basement. Fire prevention is an individual matter and can be achieved only by individual action.

Takes Pro Plunge

In signing a one-year contract calling for a salary of $25,000, Ellsworth Vines, former national tennis champion, took the long-contemplated plunge into professionalism. He is to meet Big Bill Tilden, Henri Cochet and others in a pro tourney at New York next January.

The Kingfish of Chicago

By BURNLEY

THEY say the king can do no wrong, but inside the squared circle his nibs the Kingfish of Levinsky seems to do everything wrong—and yet he licks master boxers!

The Kingfish is a clumsy lout—Dan Parker calls him the only heavyweight in captivity with two left feet—and he always seems to be fat and out of shape. As a boxer he is a joke. Yet he has been the cause of a lot of misery to such foxy ring generals as Jack Sharkey, Tommy Loughran and Mickey Walker.

Levinsky's pet punch is an insane right-hand swing which he starts from his back-top and aims at the general direction of his enemy's lug. This crazy wallop travels in such a goofy arc, when the King lets it fly, that it seems to hypnotize clever boxers who would be ashamed to get hit by an ordinary right-hand punch.

The goofy King planted his wild right on the whiskers of Jack Sharkey, the cleverest big man of modern times, and deposited the gob upon the canvas for a count of seven!

Levinsky pelted the shifty Mr. Loughran to the canvas several times with the same trusty right. He dumped Mickey Walker once, and dropped Unknown Winston four times. He kayoed Charley Retzlaff in one heat.

The Kingfish can SMACK!

Now that he has licked Sharkey, the bounding bouncer from Chicago's Ghetto, wants a crack at Schmeling, Baer or Carniera. He has already fought Carniera and Baer—has boxed each one twice, in fact, dropping all four decisions, but giving a good account of himself on each occasion. The heavy-footed, heavy-handed King claims to have put Carniera on the deck in one of their scraps, but Primo sets that one down as a slip.

The boys who saw Levinsky lick Sharkey at Chicago say that the Kingfish has improved tremendously, and they lay the blame for this at the door of Mr. Peter Reilly, none other.

Mr. Reilly, known as the Silver Fox of Fistian, bought a large chunk of the goofy King and decided to work patiently with him for a couple of months. He is the Sharkey bout. He taught the eccentric one to punch to the body, to jab with his left and to shorten his pile-driving right at times.

And when the Kingfish hooked the Sharkey with his right, was Mr. Reilly happy!

NAMES you should know

YOU like to know names that everybody knows — name of the man who tied lightning to a kite; name of the man who watched a teakettle and went out and made an engine. Just knowing such names gives you pleasure.

Yet there are names that thousands of people know that can give you much more pleasure in a much more personal way. Names that stand for the best things to eat, to wear, to sleep on. Names, that if connected with the salad dressing, hat, fountain pen you select—or any other desirable thing—mean it is most desirable. Names written large in ADVERSISEMENTS.

Advertisements tell why those are wise names for you to know. Why such names greet you in the best grocery, department and hardware stores. Why those names are in the buying vocabulary of thousands . . . are believed in by thousands . . . justify belief!

Read the advertisements. Don't ask vaguely in a store for "cold cream," "a skillet," "a vacuum cleaner." Ask for So-and-So's Cold Cream, So-and-So's Skillet, So-and-So's Vacuum Cleaner. Use the names, you have learned through advertisements, that stand for the product that means most to you and most to everybody.

It pays to read all advertisements in this paper
